- Geographical position of Sai District Deogarh: -

Deogarh district is in the western part of Odisha, which is surrounded by Keonjhar, Angul, Sambalpur and the borders of Dhenkanal District. Deogarh Sai District's areas are from the revenue district of Deogarh along with Pallahara subdivision of Angul district.

- Brief history of the District: -

The Deogarh Sai District emerged in the year 2001 and Sri Susil kumar Dalbehera become the first District President. He was in his office till the end of February-2012. During his tenure in Deogarh, Sri Sai Organisations presence felt vastly in the entire district. The areas are from Chhatabar, Tinkibir, Reamal, Deogarh town, Golabandh, Chasaguruganj, Pallahara and many more villages. In some of the areas they could manage to form a samiti or a Bhajan Mandali. But in most of the parts they could not succeed to establish a Sai Centre.

In the leadership of Sri Dalbehera and Sri Prafulla Kumar Pani , Deogarh became the first seva samiti in the district. Then with the leadership of Sri Dalbehera along with Hatakishore Pradhan, Sugriva Mahapatra and Satyananda Pradhan, Chhatabar became a seva samiti and Tinkibir a Bhajan Mandali. At that time Tinkibir was taking the leading role in seva activities of the district. Then Chasaguruganj became a Samiti and lastly in the leadership of Sri Dileswar Rout of Pallahara, Pallahara became a bhajan mandali and then a seva samiti with a beautiful mandir named as Sai Vihar Pallahara. Dalbehera quit his post in the beginning of 2012 and Sri Jagabandhu Mishra took the charge till 2016. After that Sri Soven Kumar Samal became the district president till the end of December 2020.

The people of Sai District Deogarh are very simple and kind in their nature. Honesty is their innate quality. They are neither so rich nor so poor. Most of the people's main source of income is farming and cultivation of paddy and other pulses, vegetables, etc. In spite of their limited income sources, they are very happy with their character and smiling nature.
